

safety charades

PROGRAM LINK: Try-Its for Brownie Girl Scouts \(GSUSA, 2000\): Creative Composing Try-It, Safety Sense Try-It; Puppets, Dolls and Plays Try-It. Girl Scout Cookies at www.girlscouts.org Awards, Badges and Other Incentives: Smart Cookie Try-It

Girl Scout Brownies love to perform and keep active as they reinforce the safety rules that they have learned.

Get Ready

---

Materials:

Paper (cut into eight strips)

Preparation:

Write each safety rule below on a strip of paper.

Always sell with an adult

Wear your Girl Scout identification

Never tell anyone your name or where you live

Ask an adult to help with forms and money

Don't sell in a neighborhood or area that is unfamiliar

Only sell door to door during daylight hours

Never enter a home when selling or delivering cookies

Follow pedestrian safety rules.

Step 1: Clues to Safety

---

The girls take turns drawing a safety rule and, without talking, try to get the other girls to guess her rule. If a white board or chart paper is available, girls may have fun drawing the clues as well.

Step 2: The Importance of Safety

After all the rules have been guessed, invite the girls to discuss the importance of each rule.
